

PORTENDS TROUBLE.

The Situation in Paris Still Serious and the Rumors of Military Revolt Continue.

Rumored That Prince Louis Bonaparte Is Involved in the Coup d'Etat—More Serious Than Since the Commune.

Paris, Oct. 15.—The situation here is still most serious and the rumors of a military coup d'etat continue.

The Matin says the plot was not in favor of one of the pretenders to the throne of France, who has been talked about for some time, but was only for the purpose of changing certain officials of the government without touching the President.

The Premier, M. Hissou, was among those who were not surprised when notified of the plot. He promises to take action in the matter.

It is rumored that the conspiracy involved Prince Louis Bonaparte, who is a Colonel of Russian Lancers, and in whose favor his elder brother, Prince Victor Bonaparte, recently resigned the leadership of the Imperial party.

ENTERTAINMENT

Prepared for the Knights of Pythias in Middleboro.

Middleboro, Ky., Oct. 15.—The arrangements for entertaining the state Knights of Pythias from the 24th to the 27th, inclusive, in this city, are being pushed along energetically. There is every indication that the attendance is going to be larger than has marked these meetings for several years.

Brig. Gen. Milward and Col. Logan, representing the uniform rank Knights of Pythias of Kentucky, have completed arrangements with the Middleboro lodge to hold the uniform rank competitive drill in this city at the meeting of the lodge. Six hundred dollars prize money has been offered by Middleboro lodge, and it is expected that five or six companies will enter the contest. As there is considerable rivalry among several companies on account of the decisions rendered at the grand encampment at Indianapolis, it will probably be the most hotly contested event of its kind ever participated in.

Trial for Petty Larceny.

The case against Bill Hill, colored, charged with petty larceny, will come up before County Judge Tully this afternoon if the witnesses can be secured. Hill has been in jail for several months, and is charged with stealing $10 from a companion while he was asleep.

Druggists will say they sell more Plantation Chili Cure than all others.

Regarding the difficulty of obtaining pure goods in Paducah, the following is a statement from the local druggists:

Wines and Liquors

For medicinal purposes only. All our domestic goods are purchased direct from the makers, insuring absolutely pure goods of full strength, at the lowest prices. All imports come through the most reliable importers in this country. An exceptionally full line of the highest grade wines, brandies, liquors, wines, both imported and domestic, constantly on hand.

For Medicinal Purposes

These goods are all bottled "in bond," bearing the government stamp, which is a safeguard against their having been mixed or tampered with in any way. We carry a drug store, therefore, so that physicians are not compelled to write a prescription when recommending wines or liquors to patients.

ONE HUNDRED PERISH ON MOHEGAN.

The Transatlantic Steamer Goes Down Off the English Coast Last Night—Terrible Fatality.

Loss of Life Today Placed at One Hundred—The Steamer Was Thought to Have Been Unseaworthy.

Among the rescued is Stephen Crane's wife, who was nearly dead from exposure.

It is said the steamer was unseaworthy.

BEAUTIFUL.

The Opening Today at Hays, Foster & Ward's New Store.

The Big Establishment Filled With Visitors—Music and Decorations Noticeable Features.

Paducah's new dry goods store has been today the center of attraction. From 9 o'clock this morning, the hour of opening, Hays, Foster & Ward have had a constant stream of visitors and customers.

Music for the occasion is furnished by an orchestra, while the various floors are most tastefully decorated with potted plants.

The first floor is devoted to dry goods and notions and the elegant display of the newest and latest in these lines shows that the stock of the new firm will be the most complete in Paducah.

The second floor is devoted to shoes, ladies' wraps and jewelry. The display of ladies' wraps was especially the object of admiration, and was pronounced by many a visitor one of the finest displays of the kind ever seen in this city.

The third floor is devoted to rugs, blankets and boy's suits.

The opening has been most successful and the members of the new firm are to be congratulated on their first day of business in Paducah.

Their head salesman is Mr. W. A. Armstrong, of Memphis, assisted by Mr. Stewart, of Memphis, and Mr. Chas. E. Walker, of this city. The salesladies are Misses Maggie Williams, Hattie Clark, Zilpah Walker and Mrs. Salina Holland; Miss Benta Hill as cashier.

SOON WILL REACH CAIRO.

There are but seven more miles of line to complete before the telephone line reaches Cairo. It is estimated that with good weather, ten days will be required to complete the system, which will connect Paducah with Cairo and all the large cities by long distance telephone.

LICENSE TO MARRY.

J. T. Heasley, a farmer of Carlisle county, and Miss Bettie Stinson, of this county, were licensed to marry today. The bride is but 16 years of age.

"Pawnee Bill's Wild West" will exhibit in Paducah Saturday, Oct. 23, for one day only.

The Daily Advertiser, of Montgomery, Alabama, said: "Each feature of Pawnee Bill's Historical Wild West was admirably executed. Cowboys rode their horses grandly and the shooting was splendid."

SITUATION IMPROVING.

Trains Ordered by Board of Health to Resume Travel in Mississippi Between Non-Infected Towns.

Still Many New Cases, But They Are Becoming Fewer on Account of the Favorable Weather.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 15.—The outlook today is more hopeful. The state board of health has ordered that trains be started and traffic resumed between non-infected towns.

Fifty-two new cases and three deaths have been reported in the state today.

The number of new cases is, however, decreasing owing to favorable weather.

AFTER TANNER.

The Coal Operators Want to Indict the Governor.

Virde, Ill., Oct. 15.—Everything is quiet here today, though the excitement is still at a white heat. A miner has gotten out a warrant against the coal operators charging them with murder.

It is rumored today that the operators will get out an indictment blaming Governor Tanner for the tragedy of Wednesday.

LARGE CROWD.

The Speaking Last Night Well Attended.

There were several hundred people at the city hall last night to hear the joint debate between Candidates Wheeler and Reeves, for congress from the First district.

It was a very lively debate, too, and both men got somewhat personal in their remarks. Mr. Reeves was the cooler of the two, Mr. Wheeler being his temper to a degree. The crowd seemed to be for Reeves, but as to who got "skinned" in the argument, it depends entirely on the prejudices of the hearer. The Wheeler men claim that Wheeler got the better of it, while the Reeves men claim the opposite.

The candidates are billed for a speech in Graves county today, and Mr. Wheeler went out, but it is understood that Mr. Reeves will go down this afternoon, thinking it will be tonight, and will find that Mr. Wheeler has already spoken.

OUR GREAT

INDUSTRIAL EDITION.

The Sun has perfected arrangements for the publication on Thanksgiving day of one of the greatest industrial editions ever issued by a Paducah newspaper.

It will be a thorough review of Paducah and its business from its inception; will be descriptive, statistical, biographical and illustrative matter. It will be comprehensive and correct in its matter and attractive in its form.

The work upon this edition will be long and laborious but if it succeeds in awakening our citizens to the full appreciation of our various factories and business enterprises, which are the bone and sinew of the city, as well as those institutions which nobly fulfill their missions of education, religion, culture and charity, and by this inspires all with a pride in the past and confidence in the future, the Sun shall be amply repaid.

WHOSE FAULT?

It is evident that a terrible blunder has been committed at Virden, Ill., and some one is responsible for the death of fourteen American citizens. Governor Tanner can never clear himself of all blame for that terrible affair, for he positively refused to send the state troops there although warned that trouble would follow the attempt of the mine owners to introduce imported negro labor.

The governor stood on the fence of the law, and allowed events to demonstrate the inability of the sheriff to maintain order. It took the deaths of fourteen men to satisfy the governor.

Public opinion also will not hold the operators at Virden blameless by any means. They refused to admit their differences with their union miners to arbitration as their a large demand. They went to the extreme of importing negro non-union miners to take the place of white union miners. In going to this extreme the operators defied public sentiment, threw wisdom to the winds, and yet were strictly within the limits of the law—they having the right to hire any laborers they wished. But fourteen graves attest the foolishness of their course and the public will hold the mine operators at Virden guilty.

The union miners of Virden had the sympathy of the public. Justice, not as the law interprets, but in the eyes of humanity, was on their side. They had offered to arbitrate their differences, which is the fairest offer that can be made. But the miners went too far. They transgressed the law when they resorted to force and to bloodshed to prevent the operators from importing labor. And fourteen men are dead as a result of their illegal resistance against the arbitrary injustice of the mine operators.

The governor of Illinois, the police operators and the strikers are all at fault. But whatever the preliminary causes, when the union miners offered to submit to arbitration their offer should have been accepted. Organized labor has become a recognized factor of our industrial life and it may as well be accepted as such. Arbitration is furthermore the only possible means of settling otherwise unresolvable conditions.

The unfortunate affair at Virden is a great disgrace to the state of Illinois. Public opinion should so assert itself that the occurrence cannot be repeated.

AT FASHODA.

The situation between England and France as to the Fashoda matter is justly more serious than the public realizes. While it has been deemed possible that war would be the final arbitrator, yet the world has taken for granted that the good sense of the heads of the two governments would find some honorable way of avoiding war.

The simple facts of the case are that in the struggle for territory in Africa, a French detachment under Major Marchand, reached Fashoda on the upper Nile, first, France had a perfect right to occupy and to hold the town. No English officer had ever set foot there, though it has been the dream of English statesmen and adventurers for years to control all the valley of the Nile and ultimately to build a railroad from Cairo to Cape Town. Major Marchand had appeared and apparently upset all of England's plans and hopes. All political parties in England are united in denouncing the Marchand and his little army is withdrawn, plainly telling it to be understood that a refusal on the part of France means war.

At first France seemed apathetic and it was generally believed that her government would dictate the action of her gallant soldier and recall him. But this course will not be approved by the French people and the government is being urged by loyal Frenchmen everywhere to stand firm and not to discredit the course of the brave Marchand, who underwent untold danger to plant the French tricolor on the banks of the Nile.

Either France or England must yield, or there will be war.

Mr. Mike Michael has returned home from a trip, and is very ill from fever at his home on the North Side. Mrs. A. S. Dabney is going to the "out" again, after her husband (Uncle Sam) to the transfer of the transfer steamer Osbourne, is quite ill at his home on North Seventh street from an attack of pneumonia which he contracted while on duty.

The condition of Mr. Michael is such that the clothing merchant, in his opinion, is still very ill, and is in danger of his life.

Mr. Frank Martin, the barber, is dangerously ill at his home on South Fourth street, and is in danger of his life.

One may save their life by taking the medicine which Dr. J. W. Pendley has given them.

SEWER WORK.

The work on the sewerage is progressing rapidly this kind of weather, and the laborers find work quite pleasant. There has been considerable trouble on North Fourth street on account of no lights. Night before last it was dark for some distance where the excavations began, and a number of ditches for house connections were left without a single warning signal. One farmer, whose name could not be learned, drove into a ditch, and his horse was injured. The lights were replaced about midnight by Officers Gontreux and Roark.

Come and see our medium weight blue flannel knee pants at 25c. Well worth 50 cents. Sacrifice Sale. White Building.

HORSE KILLED.

Mrs. T. C. Culver and Mrs. Albert Glass went driving out the Benton road yesterday afternoon and in attempting to turn the horse out into a dirt road, the buggy was overturned and the horse's neck was broken against a tree. Mrs. Culver's arm was broken. The other woman was only bruised. Dr. Robertson dressed the injuries. The horse killed was valued at over $100 and belonged to Mr. James Glauber.

You take no risk on Plantation Chilli Cure, as it is guaranteed to cure.

PIECE OF VANDALISM.

POLICE COURT.

One Bradshaw Was Fined $20 and Costs This Morning.

An Alleged House-Breaker Held to Answer—Other Cases.

The case against One Bradshaw, colored, charged with having presented a pistol at Rem Fortson, was disposed this morning by the defendant being fined $20 and costs. The other charge was dismissed, and the fine was for a breach of the peace.

Robert Cole, the negro charged with having broken into the shoe store of Mr. W. E. Cochran, was held to answer, the case against him being a clear one.

Douglas Miles, colored, charged with stealing coal, and he bought the coal from the young man at the St. Bernard Coal Company, and the case was continued until this afternoon.

Henry Holland, colored, was charged with vagrancy, and was ordered to leave the city at once.

"This is the first soldier I have had before me for years," remarked Judge Sanders this morning, as private Ernest Wallace was called on a charge of engaging in a fight with "Humpty" Lyle last night. "One would think, to look at their faces, that the war is not over yet," continued the court. "I used to have soldiers from the barracks but to me very often during the war and afterwards, but this is the first one I have had in many years."

The evidence showed that the two men fell out in a Fourth street saloon because one of them said an other soldier was under arrest. They agreed not to have any trouble there, but afterwards Lyle met the soldier and asked him if he didn't want to renew it, and "knock him in the jaw."

The soldier got him down, but was pulled off, and the other man was allowed to proceed. He followed them again, however, and the soldier was taken up an alley by a friend to keep him from having further trouble with Lyle, but when he came out of the alley Lyle hit him with a stick, and he again got Lyle down, and Deputy Lookup Keeper Barth had to pull him off. Lyle was fined $3 and costs and the soldier was acquitted.

RAINFALL IN ENGLAND.

It Averages All the Way From 25 to 170 Inches in Different Sections.

Beginning with the eastern counties, we find the lowest rainfall, under 25 inches a year, occurs over an area extending from the Humber to Cambridge, the next zone, 25 to 30 inches a year, extending all down the east coast from Edinburgh to Surrey, and stretching as far inland as the Severn.

Proceeding westward and to more hilly parts, the rainfall gradually increases, reaching 50 inches a year over large areas in the west of Scotland, the lake district, Wales and Dartmoor, and rising to 80 inches in the neighborhood of the Trossachs, while in the lake district a small area can boast of a rainfall up to 100 inches a year.

This small area includes the most rainy part of England, the average fall at "Sawthwaite" being 187 inches a year; while the Stye, about a mile distant, has an average fall of 170 inches, with a maximum in 1872 of 244 inches.

Such falls as these are seldom exceeded in temperate climates, but at Cherrapunji, a station in the Khasi hills, in Assam, the average over 20 years amounts to no less than 493½ inches.

In "rainless" Egypt, on the other hand, the average at Alexandria is eight inches and at Cairo one and a half inches a year. In most of our large waterworks schemes advantage has been taken of the heavy rainfalls and high altitudes of the west for the supply of towns in drier and lower districts.

The Thirlmere district, from which Manchester now obtains the greater part of its water, has an average rainfall of about 90 inches a year. At Lake Vyrnwy, which supplies Liverpool, the rainfall is upward of 50 inches a year, and in the Eilan valley, in Mid-Wales, which is now being appropriated for Birmingham, the annual rainfall amounts to 68 inches.—Chamber's Journal.
